

You're focused on them

CARF can help you demonstrate your commitment, identify quality partners, and improve client outcomes.

CARF knows you strive to achieve the best outcomes for the people you serve. The CARF seal of accreditation signifies that you provide services focused on the unique needs of the persons and families you serve and demonstrates your commitment to continuously improving service quality.

And when you need to find other quality-focused programs and services for your clients, look for CARF accreditation as evidence that an organization strives to improve efficiency, fiscal health, and service delivery—creating a foundation for consumer satisfaction.

CARF International is an independent accreditor of health and human services. More than 5,500 service providers have CARF-accredited programs available at more than 19,000 locations internationally.

For a free consultation on how accreditation can help your organization, or for assistance in finding one of our 45,000 accredited programs to meet your specific needs, call 888.281.6531 today.
